Election/Restrictions

The election of August 16, 2006 is non-responsive. The Applicant fails to specifically elect a species of catheter, fastener and support structure. The response was also unclear in regards to elected claims, i.e. the applicant elected the "the embodiment that corresponds to claim 43 yet does not elect claim 43. However, the Examiner concedes that the restriction requirement may have been confusing so another restriction requirement in lieu of the first follows.

This application contains claims directed to patentably distinct species. Please select:

The species of paragraph 0020:

A first aspect of the method of the present invention, the tissue structure comprises the valve leaflets and the engaging step comprises attaching one or more opposed points on or along the valve leaflets together.

If this species is elected please select one of the following as sub-species:

Wherein the attachment of leaflets is by suturing, clipping, stapling, riveting, gluing, or fusing

The species of paragraph 0025:

A second aspect of the method of the present invention, the tissue structure comprises the chordae and the engaging step comprises linking opposed chordae together, i.e., chordae attached to different valve leaflets.

The species of paragraph 0026:

A third aspect of the method of the present invention, the tissue structure comprises the chordae and the engaging step comprises applying energy to shorten the chordae.

The species of paragraph 0027:

A fourth aspect of the method of the present invention, the tissue structure comprises the valve annulus and the engaging step comprises circumferentially tightening or shortening the annulus.

If this species is elected please select one of the following sub-species:

The use of an annuloplasty ring, surgical plication techniques, or shrinking tissue within the annulus by applying radiofrequency energy.

The species of paragraph 0028:

A fifth aspect of the method of the present invention, the tissue structure comprises the papillary muscles and the engaging step comprises capturing and drawing opposed points or portions of the papillary muscles together.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claims appear generic, however the Applicant is asked to confirm or traverse this conclusion.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species.

MPEP § 809.02(a).

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
